

CALLED WOMAN JEKYLL-HYDE ON ANGRY MAID'S TIP

A Discharged Servant
Caused Arrest of Thelma Paulson.

STORY OF DOUBLE LIFE.

When Not Employed, It Is Alleged, She Lived in Apartments Filled with Loot.

When arraigned to-day in the West Side Court, a woman, who is accused of leading a Jekyll and Hyde sort of a life, laid all her troubles to the anger of a maid whom she had discharged. It was declared that the prisoner, while maintaining expensive apartments at No. 223 West Eighty-third street, spent part of her time as a chambermaid in fashionable hotels for the purpose of stealing linen and silverware.

The woman was arrested early to-day by Detective-Sergeants Oppenheim, Dowling and Lyons, in the apartment which she has leased for some time under the name of Mrs. Caroline M. Flauer. She occupied a luxuriously furnished flat on the top floor, where she has lived alone. At Police Headquarters she said she was Thelma Paulson, of No. 81 East One Hundred and Tenth street, but the police declare that address is the home of her mother, Mrs. Pew.

Refused to Give Address.

She was arraigned before Magistrate Whitman under the name of Thelma Paulson, and on refusing to give her address was entered as having "no home."

She was held until late this afternoon when she was represented by Abe Kaufman, of Howe & Hummel's office. He asked for the dismissal of the case, but the Magistrate held her in $500 bail for Special Sessions. She announced that she would get bail.

It was brought out in the presentation of the case that she had been informed of the alleged theft by Agnes Wassell, of No. 149 West One Hundred street, who, for several months, was janitress and maid for the prisoner. Mrs. Paulson discharged her a few days ago after a quarrel, and the maid vowed vengeance. She was taken once to Police Headquarters and told of her former mistress's alleged Jekyll-Hyde existence.

The complaint filed to-day charged the theft of the following articles from the Hotel St. Regis: a sheet, a bureau cover, a towel, a pillow slip, a tablecloth, a napkin and eleven silver-plated knives. The total value was placed at $25. The police allege that she has confessed to these thefts.

While in court Mrs. Paulson begged the reporters to say nothing of the case.

Blames Discharged Maid.

"It will ruin me," she said. "It's all the work of that wretch of a maid. She dared me to discharge her and I did. Now see what she's done. But I'll get even with her."

She refused to talk of the case further, and would not say whether she had confessed, as the police said.

Although a woman of striking beauty, apparent refinement and culture, the police say she procured positions as maid in hotels in this city—the St. Regis, the Waldorf-Astoria, Vendome, Edgewood and others. When making application for the position the police say she invariably gave as reference Mrs. Caroline M. Flauer, who was herself, in seeking employment at the hotels she gave her name as Thelma Paulson, of No. 81 East One Hundred and Tenth street, and when inquiry was made at that address the hotel employees always got a favorable report from the woman who answered the bell.

Valuable Linens Missed.

The management of the St. Regis recently learned that several hundred dollars' worth of their most expensive linens, including bed sheets, pillow slips, towels, etc., had been stolen, and the robbery was reported to the Detective Bureau at Police Headquarters. Detective Sergeants Oppenheim, Dowling and Lyons were detailed on the case.

Thelma Paulson had obtained employment in the St. Regis last December, remaining there one month.

It was about the time of the complaint from the St. Regis that Agnes Wassell, the discharged janitress, went to the police with her story. With that address and the allegations thus given the detectives began to see a clue.

They applied to Magistrate Whitman for a warrant charging Thelma Paulson with receiving stolen goods.

The detectives then went to the apartment house, accompanied by William H. Young, clerk of the St. Regis, and James Kennedy, the house detective.

Received in Dinner Gown.

Mrs. Caroline M. Flauer, dressed in a becoming dinner gown, received the men in her apartments. They arrested her on the charge that she had robbed the Hotel St. Regis.

The police were informed late this afternoon by J. E. Regis, a broker, of No. 60 Wall street, that he lost a pair of diamond cuff buttons from his room while staying at the St. Regis some time ago. Among Mrs. Paulson's gems were two cuff buttons. Her other jewels were returned to him. The police, but these were held until Mr. Allen can look at them.

SIMPSON PLEADS GUILTY.

"Tony" Simpson, many years an umpire at the Washington Park baseball games and at one time secretary of the Brooklyn Baseball Club, to-day pleaded guilty in the County Court, Brooklyn, to making book on the races. The specific charge was that he was engaged in bookmaking on Feb. 17 in the Temple Fire Building, City Hall Square, Brooklyn. Simpson is one of the best-known umpires in Brooklyn and has been at the game for several years. He was committed to the House of Correction for sentence next Monday.

DEATH AVENUE BILL IS SET BACK AGAIN

Goes to Committee for a Hearing on Railroad Company's Proposals.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 27.—The Senate today rejected the bill to amend the Central Railroad Company to remove the trucks on Eleventh avenue was to-day sent back to the Senate Committee after a vigorous attack by Senator Saxe on the methods of the railroad company in its efforts to hold up the bill. The motion to recommmit the measure was made by Senator White.

"The time comes," said Senator Saxe, "when a man's forbearance breaks down. I should insist that this bill be passed to-day. I'm entitled to have it as a party right. This matter was presented to the Republican State Chairman in the last campaign and was made an issue in the west side."

Senator White asserted that as the chairman of the Cities Committee he had agreed to let the bill out, with the understanding that it was to be returned for a hearing to-night, and he declared that Senator Saxe had been told of that plan.

"I am positive that no such statement was made to me," retorted Senator Saxe.

"The question here," pleaded Senator White, "is not one of party regularity, but rather one of an honorable obligation. If the Senate violates the pledge given by the Cities Committee it will come back to plague every member of this house."

The course pursued by the railroad company, declared Senator Saxe, "is absolutely unfair. Counsel for the railroad company is to place part of the burden of making the improvement on the city."

The bill is to retain its place on the third reading calendar. The committee will meet to-night to consider the railroad's plan. This scheme contemplates the construction of an elevated track in Eleventh avenue, between Thirty-third street and Sixtieth street. Above Sixtieth street the railroad company insists upon having a clear and undisturbed right of way.

EDITOR FOUND DEAD MAY HAVE BEEN SLAIN

Rochester Street from Wounds in the Head.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 27.—An unidentified man was found dead in the street to-day with fatal wounds in the head. He had a card inscribed "E. W. Heath, Editor Democrat, No. 27, Boston Park road, Mamaroneck, N. Y."

He was about thirty-five. An autopsy is being held. It is impossible to determine whether the man was murdered.

PREGANZER'S BOY TO BE TIMOTHY P.

Latest Arrival in Sullivan Row to Be Christened on Sunday.

"Sullivan Row," in Seventh street, has another boy baby who is to be christened Timothy P., thus making the eighth Timothy P. on the block, according to the latest census provided by Col. "Mike" Padden. The newest baby, who, according to tradition, must when of age become a Sullivan, vote the Sullivan ticket, attend the Sullivan showers and follow the Sullivan lead in all things political and social pertaining to the east side, is the first child born to Adam Preganzer and his wife, Blanche.

The boy is two weeks old, and on Sunday night there is to be a great christening festival at the Preganzer house, No. 41 Seventh street. Adam Preganzer, P. Sullivan, who lives at No. 23, and Senator John C. Fitzgerald, who resides at No. 23, together with Sullivan and Preganzer from other sections of the east side, are to be present. Father, Reilly of the Church of the Nativity will officiate.

Mrs. Preganzer was Miss Blanche Gorman and acknowledged one of the prettiest girls of the east side fourteen months ago, when she became a bride. Although thirty-three years his wife's senior, Preganzer was considered a good catch, for he had plenty of money, is handsome, owns a house in which he lives and has a good position in the office of the Register.

"It's just a wedding of December and May with no flies on December," said Adam at the time of the wedding. He retained that sentiment on the christening. Sullivan performed the ceremony which made the couple one, and he then whispered to Adam that he would feel in duty bound to become the next godfather in the Preganzer family. The Alderman has been held to his word, so he will "stand" for the baby Sunday, thus for the twelfth time becoming the godfather of an east side child, and that within the year. He says he has acquired the habit.

to report out the Schmidt bill attacking the Ryan-Belmont merger. Later they appeared before the Judiciary Committee of both houses in advocacy of the Direct Nominations, the Recall, the Ballot Reform and the Debt Limit measures. They argued also before the Cities Committee in favor of the Eltinge Rapid Transit bill and the Young bill, and before the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners.

A conference of Hearst men from different parts of the State will be held to-day to organize a Statewide movement in the interest of Hearst.

HAINES FIGHTS BILL TO AID BERGH SOCIETY.

Head of the S. P. C. A. Will Oppose the Measure at Hearing
To-Morrow.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 27.—The Assembly Committee on Charitable and Religious Institutions announced today that a hearing will be given to-morrow on the bill introduced by Assemblyman Francis enlarging the powers of the Henry Bergh Humane Society, of New York City.

This hearing, it is expected, will develop into a general investigation of the methods of the Humane Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which is now under fire in New York City.

The Francis bill will be opposed by John P. Haines, who seeks to serve his monopoly of the animal humane interests in New York City.

The bill is to retain its place on the third reading calendar. The committee will meet to-night to consider the railroad's plan. This scheme contemplates the construction of an elevated track in Eleventh avenue, between Thirty-third street and Sixtieth street. Above Sixtieth street the railroad company insists upon having a clear and undisturbed right of way.

EX-PREMIER BALFOUR UNDER DOCTOR'S CARE.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—The bye-election in the city of London to decide whether or not to force the issue of the Balfour bill returned immediately to Parliament has been robbed of much of its excitement by the illness of Mr. Balfour, whose doctor has ordered him to remain in bed.

Mr. Balfour's health has not been satisfactory for some time, and is complicated by several ailments. He was taken to bed yesterday evening after a meeting in the city he suffered from an over-fatigue and a severe cold. He is now in bed, and the doctor has ordered him to remain in bed.

WORDS OF PRAISE WELL MERITED BY A WELL KNOWN ARTICLE.

So much has been written by the standard medical authorities, of all the several schools of practice, in praise of the native, or American, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, that in attempting to quote from the various works on Materia Medica one hardly knows where to commence, since they are so voluminous that only the briefest and most important reference can be presented in a short article like this.

Briefly then let us say that the "Golden Medical Discovery" was named from the sturdy little plant Golden Seal, the root of which enters largely into its composition. Besides this most valuable ingredient, it contains glyceric extracts of Stone root, Queen's root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot and Mandrake root.

Finley Ellingwood, M. D., an eminent practitioner of Chicago and Professor of Materia Medica in the Bennett Medical College of that city, in his recently published work on Therapeutics, says of Golden Seal root: "It is the most natural of stimulants to the normal function of the system. Its influence upon the mucous surfaces renders it most important in catarrhal gastritis (inflammation of stomach) and gastric (stomach) ulceration."

Many other authorities as well as Dr. Ellingwood extol the Hydrastis (Golden Seal), as a remedy for catarrhal diseases of the nasal passages, stomach, bronchia, gall ducts, kidneys, intestines and bladder. Among these, we may mention Prof. John King, M. D., author of the American Dispensatory; Prof. J. M. Souther, M. D., in his "Specific Medication"; Dr. Hale of the Hahnemann Med. College of Chicago; Grover Coe, M. D., of New York, in his "Organic Medicines"; Dr. Bartholow of Jefferson Med. College and scores of other leading medical writers and teachers.

All the foregoing eminent authorities extol the curative virtues of Golden Seal in cases of stomach, liver and intestinal weakness, torpor and ulceration of bowels, indigestion, constipation, etc. It is most highly, "In those cases of atonic dyspepsia when the entire apparatus, including the liver, is stagnant and inactive." He also extols it most highly in the many weaknesses and derangements peculiar to women, and says, "It is a most important remedy in many disorders of the womb." Golden Seal root (Hydrastis), is an important ingredient of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, "rundown" women.

But to return to the "Golden Medical Discovery" it may be said that its curative properties are not wholly dependent upon Golden Seal, valuable as it is, as other equally potent ingredients add to its value and in fact are not less important than the Hydrastis, or Golden Seal.

In all bronchial, throat, lung and kindred ailments, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root and Bloodroot, each play an important part in effecting the phenomenal cures of "Golden Medical Discovery" as does Golden Seal. All these ingredients have the endorsement of prominent practitioners of all schools of medicine for the cure of diseases of the bronchia, throat and lungs.

Much further information as to the properties and uses of "Golden Medical Discovery" and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak women, will be found in a little booklet of extracts from standard medical books which will be mailed free to every doctor on request, by letter or postal card, sent to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

All the several ingredients of Dr. Pierce's medicines will be found, from the reading of this little booklet, to have the strongest possible professional endorsement and recommendations for the cure of all the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. No other medicines for like purposes have any such endorsement. They are non-alcoholic, non-secret, safe and reliable.
